WARSAW, AUGUST 1.

THE general confederacy of Poland has ſent to the ſeveral Waywodies of this kingdom, requiring their compliance with the following articles. Firſt, that all gentlemen who have not yet joined the ſaid confederacy ſhall do it immediately. 2dly, That all the courts of juſtice ſhall ſubſiſt as heretofore, but ſhall not judge any of the confederates. 3dly, That the Marſhals of the crown ſhall not paſs any ſentence without the participation of at leaſt four of the confederates; and, 4thly, That the Marſhals of the crown and the treaſurers ſhall be immediately reſtored to the poſſeſſion of their reſpective rights.

AUGUST 5. The firſt inſtant the Prince de Radzivil deputed to the commiſſaries of war and the treaſury, the waywode of Podlachia, to acquaint them, that they ſhould take the oath of fidelity to the King and the Confederacy, in the following form; firſt, that they would be faithful to the King and the Confederates: Secondly, that they would ſupport and protect the Roman Catholick religion, and the liberty and privileges of other religions: Thirdly, that they would not hold any ſecret or ſuſpected correſpondence by letters: And fourthly, that they would not reſign their employments. Some of them took the oath to the King and the general confederacy, nearly in the form preſcribed, but others would not do it, and demanded their diſmiſſion. The ſame day the Prince de Radzivil had an audience of the King.

AUGUST 8. Prince Radzivil, the marſhal of the general confederacy, exerciſes in that capacity a very extenſive authority. He ſays, in the Univerſalia, "That all thoſe who do not adhere to the general confederacy ſhall be treated as enemies of the country. The members of the boards of war and treaſury of the crown, the magiſtrates of this city, the guard of the grand marſhal, and the corps of artillery, &c. have taken the oath of fidelity to the general confederacy: from which, and all the other diſpoſitions that are making, it ſeems as if the ſaid confederacy arrogated a kind of ſovereign authority.

The dignity with which Prince Radzivil is inveſted draws the greateſt attention. It is remarked, that the audience which he had of the King the 2d of this month, and wherein he informed his Majeſty, that he had begun to exerciſe the functions of marſhal of the confederates, laſted but a few minutes.

STOCKHOLM, July 28. Yeſterday the chamberlain, count d'Unruhe, deputy of the confederacy of Poland, ſet out from hence for Copenhagen, greatly ſatisfied with the good diſpoſitions of the regency towards the Diſſidents. He had received, by order of the King, an anſwer in writing to his memorial; by which his Majeſty aſſures them of his protection, and promiſes them, that at the approaching diet of Poland, he will intereſt himſelf ſtrongly in their favour, conjointly with the other Proteſtant powers.

Liſbon, Auguſt 13. On Sunday laſt, the 16th inſtant, William Henry Lyttleton, Eſq; his Britannick Majeſty's envoy extraordinary and plenipotentiary, arrived here from on board his Majeſty's frigate the Tweed.

LONDON, AUGUST 21.

ACCORDING to letters from an Engliſh gentleman in Corſica, to his friend in London, all the inhabitants of Corſica are ſaid not to exceed ninety thouſand, including foreigners.

They write from Peterſburgh, that her Imperial Majeſty had lately recalled fifteen perſons of diſtinction from their baniſhment in Siberia, one of whom had lived twenty five years in that deſolate country.

AUGUST 22. We hear that two experienced engineers have received orders to ſet out for Gibralter and Minorca, to take a ſurvey of the fortreſſes there, and to make a proper report of their ſtate.

By a gentleman juſt come from America, we learn, that our colonies have increaſed at leaſt one third, in point of populouſneſs, ſince the peace; that the cities of Philadelphia and New-York are greatly enlarged and improved; that the number of inhabitants in Canada are doubled; and that the ſettlers invited to the two Floridas, from the continent of Europe, are daily increaſing.

The linen, thread and ſtocking manufactories of New-York and Pennſylvania are alſo in a very flouriſhing condition, by reaſon of the falling rates of the price of labour, which is now about one half leſs than it was during the war.

AUGUST 24. Colonel Yorke, an Engliſh officer in the ſervice of his Portugueſe Majeſty, died ſuddenly, as he was exerciſing his regiment at Lyſbon on the 12th ult. This officer commanded the artillery at the battle of Quebec, where the cannon was conveyed up a precipice, which a ſingle man could not mount without ſecuring himſelf to the buſhes and roots of trees.

Mr. Thomas Oſborne, bookſeller, died on the 21ſt inſtant, in Gray's Inn.

AUGUST 26. A letter from Paris, dated Auguſt 7, ſays, "The queſtion agitated here for two years paſt, relating to the liberty or the prohibition of foreign commerce in our colonies, has lately been finally determined in a council at Compeigne. The letters patent of 1727, reſpecting the prohibitive laws, are confirmed, notwithſtanding which, two free ports are eſtabliſhed, one at St. Lucia, for the Levant iſlands, and the other at St. Nicholas, for the Leeward iſlands, whither ſtrangers may not only reſort and import ſhip timber, and certain other goods, but liberty is given for the purcheſe of whatever ſimple commodities the coloniſts may bring thither. It is alſo agreed, that the duty of ten livers per head for each negro, and duties on cod-fiſh, ſhall be ſuppreſſed; and that the produce of America imported into France in return for negroes ſhall pay but half the uſual duties.

Orders are given for a general ſurvey to be made of all the ancient fortreſſes in Scotland, and a report to be made of the ſtate thereof.

We hear from Kirk-wall in Orkney, that two fortifications are to be built there next ſummer, one at the entrance of Ham Sound to the eaſtward, the other at Hoy Mouth to the weſtward.

They write from Cadiz, that a detachment of Spaniſh troops had juſt embarked there on board three tranſport ſhips for the Havana, eſcorted by a King's frigate of thirty guns.

Yeſterday a number of colony agents, as alſo ſome eminent Portugal merchants, attended the board of commiſſioners for trade and plantations.

AUGUST 28. Laſt week upwards of 400 gentlemen dined with his grace the Duke of Newcaſtle, at his ſeat near Lewes in Suſſex.

His Majeſty has appointed John Randolph, Eſq; to be attorney-general and commiſſary of the court of vice-admiralty in Virginia.

Very large commiſſions, it is ſaid, have lately been received from Liſbon, for ſhip and field cannon, mortars, bomb-ſhells, &c. for the ſervice of the King of Portugal.

We hear from Plymouth, that ninety-three Palatines, engaged in the ſervice of Dennis Rolle, Eſq; embarked a few days ago on board a tranſport ſhip in Hammoze for that gentleman's plantations in Eaſt-Florida.

By a letter from Leghorn we have advice, that ſeveral Savoyards and Piedmonteſe, ſkilful in the cultivation of ſilk and vines, have lately been engaged, by Engliſh agents, to embark for Charles-Town, South-Carolina.

AUGUST 31. We hear the caſtle of Edinburgh is next ſummer to be thoroughly repaired and beautified, and alſo be furniſhed with ſome additional new works of ſtrength.

They write from Peterſburgh, that her Imperial Majeſty had granted commiſſions to ſeveral Engliſh merchants to eſtabliſh a factory at Aſtracan, on the Wolga, for carrying on trade to Perſia, the Daghiſtan, and ſeveral ports on the Caſpian ſea.

It is aſſerted that the court of Portugal has agreed with the Emperor of Morocco, and concluded a treaty of peace, on paying 60,000 hard dollars, and 15,000 per annum; and with the Algerines alſo 50,000, and 25,000 per annum; and to give liberty to all the ſlaves of both parties.

By a letter from Bengal there is advice, that the Morateers and Zimmindars, having made an incurſion upon Midadnour, a frontier country, were repulſed with great loſs by the forces of the Eaſt-India company, and obliged to retire to the north of Piply-river.

An article from London, in the Hague gazette of Monday laſt, ſays, "The court has renounced the project of making any uſe of the diſcoveries lately made in the country of the Patagonians, and purpoſes to turn its attention to the eſtabliſhment formed in the Iſle of Falkland, ſituated in the 51d degree of ſouth latitude, and 315th degree of longitude. There is a port in this iſland which has been named Egmont, from whence a trade may be carried on, by means of the productions of the place, with the neighbouring countries of America. The French have a ſettlement on the ſame iſland, about 35 miles diſtant from ours."

SEPTEMBER 1. Yeſterday by virtue of a commiſſion from his Majeſty, the lord chancellor further prorogued the parliament to Wedneſday the 7th of October. Thomas Tyrwhitt, Eſq; chief clerk of the houſe of commons, ſupplied the place of the ſpeaker, who was not in town.

SEPTEMBER 2. It is ſaid Sir John Lindſay, member of parliament for Aberdeen in Scotland, is to be appointed commander in chief of his Majeſty's ſquadron in the mediterranean.

Extract of a letter from an Engliſh gentleman at Florence, dated Auguſt 14, 1767.

"The Jeſuits landed in Corſica from Spain, have ſuffered ſo much by being ſo long on ſhip board, that they die in great numbers. General Paoli has let them know, that if they enter into diſcuſſions concerning his government, he will put all thoſe of them to death who ſhall fall into his hands.

"The troubles of Corſica, ſince the year 1728, have coſt the Genoeſe nine millions ſterling; and the fooliſh affair of Capraja, which they have loſt by bad management, coſt them 60,000l. ſterling: So that they are quite weary of contending with the Corſicans."

Extract of a letter from Dunkirk, Auguſt 27.

"The French are repairing their fortifications, and building a bridge over the harbour; the general talk is of an approaching war."

Yeſterday morning was married at St. George's church, Hanover-ſquare, the right honourable Lord Adam Gordon, Colonel of his Majeſty's ſixtieth regiment of foot, and member of parliament for the county of Aberdeen, to her grace Jane Dutcheſs Dowager of Athole; and ſoon after they ſet out for his lordſhip's houſe at Hunſdon, in Hertfordſhire.

SEPTEMBER 4. We hear that an order will be iſſued out in a few days, for prolonging the time limited for the importation of corn to twenty one days after the meeting of the next ſeſſion of parliament.

Within theſe few days a number of petty officers, late of his Majeſty's navy, have been appointed extra officers of the exciſe and cuſtoms.

SEPTEMBER 5. By the moſt authentic accounts from Paris, the Marquis de Buſſy (the Clive of France) is worth in landed eſtates 1,800,000 livres a year, which is juſt 75 thouſand pounds ſterling per annum; a yearly income far exceeding any one in England, and in France an amazing ſum indeed; and if to this is added the 800,000 livres the Marquis has juſt received from the French Eaſt-India company, with the vaſt ſum of ready money this gentleman is in poſſeſſion of (he not ſpending one third of his rents) his whole annual receipts, it is preſumed, may now be juſtly eſtimated at the enormous ſum of 100,000l. ſterling.

A few nights ago a lady at the weſt end of the town, having loſt a conſiderable ſum at gaming, was ſo chagrined that ſhe tucked herſelf up in her own bed-chamber, but fortunately her maid came in, and cut her down time enough to ſave her life; but ſhe has behaved in ſuch a manner ever ſince, that a watch has been ſet over her, to prevent her making away with herſelf any other way.

Before the Earl of Chatham ſet out on his journey into Somerſetſhire, his Lordſhip wrote (it is confidently whiſpered) a letter to a great perſonage, and a ſhort note to his G. the D. of G. imparting his apprehenſion (from the weak ſtate of his health) or &c. ſoon being obliged to give over all thoughts, and to take a final leave, of every ſort of public buſineſs for the future.

The following political conjectures, we hear, occurred in a converſation this week at a coffee-houſe near St. James's:

That the marriage of the Prince Stadtholder with a Princeſs of Pruſſia, would be a fine barrier to the Dutch; and that in caſe of a rupture with England, the King of Pruſſia would immediately ſeize Hanover. Nay, it was even expected that the K. of P. was ſo offended at his demand of three years ſubſidy not being accepted of by England, who put him off with one only, and made peace without his conſent, that he will take the firſt pretence of joining the family compact, who will then permit him to ſeize Hanover as a recompence.

That a war with France, Spain and Holland muſt ſoon happen; and that the French had got 60 ſhips of the line already, more than they ought to have, beſides a great number of frigates, and would take the firſt opportunity of retaliating upon England, by ſeizing their fleets when the ſeas were covered with them in coming home.

That as an inducement for the King of Pruſſia to join the family compact, France was to allow a toleration of religion throughout her dominions, which would be the greateſt blow England could receive.

Many of the gentlemen were of opinion, that a war with France, Spain and Holland, would be of advantage to England, becauſe then it muſt be confined to a naval one, and would be the only means of uniting the nation.

It has always been obſerved, that previous to a war with France, the French ambaſſadors generally make the moſt ſplendid appearance.

It is ſaid to prevent any further animoſities between the mother country and the colonies, the expediency of granting the Americans repreſentatives in the Engliſh parliament, will be conſidered the moment a new adminiſtration is eſtabliſhed.

It is ſaid there are three new comedies to make their appearance at Dury-Lane theatre next ſeaſon, wrote by gentlemen of great abilities.

It is alſo ſaid that there are a new piece, and a tragedy, to make their appearance at Covent-Garden theatre next ſeaſon.—By theſe means the publick is likely to be well entertained.

SEPTEMBER 9. Letters from Paris ſay, that one of the firſt princes of Europe has wrote to the King, that he ſhall go from Naples to France, but incog. to avoid the trouble and inconveniences of ceremony.

The Duke of York, ſay the ſame letters, is gone to Toulouſe and Montpellier, and from thence will proceed into Provence, to ſee the ſouthern parts of that kingdom.

SEPTEMBER 10. Yeſterday the Earl of Halifax arrived at his houſe in Great George-ſtreet, from his ſeat at Horton, in Northamptonſhire.

Yeſterday his Majeſty came from Richmond to St. James's, where there was a levee and afterwards a cabinet council.

Yeſterday the Right Honourable Lord Mansfield was ſworn in Chancellor of the Exchequer, pro tempore, and the ſeals were delivered to him accordingly.

The ſame day the Earl of Halifax had a grand levee at his houſe in Great George-ſtreet.

The Right Honourable Lord North, and Mr. Dowdeſwell, are both arrived in town, but the general opinion is that the former will be appointed Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the room of the Right Honourable Charles Townſhend, Eſq; deceaſed.

By a gentleman who arrived yeſterday from Burton Pynſent, in Somerſetſhire, which place he left on Monday morning, we are credibly informed that Lord Chatham had received great benefit from his journey thither, was ſurprizingly recovered, and propoſed to ſet out for Bath in about three weeks, for the further eſtabliſhment of his health.

It is ſaid that a gentleman, lately belonging to the Royal Navy, has invented a cannon ſhell, of a new conſtruction, for naval ſervice, to anſwer the purpoſe of a bomb; a proof of which has lately been made with a forty-pounder, and it has been found, in every reſpect, to anſwer.

It is ſaid that ſome of the Eaſt-India Nabob's money has found its way to a ſet of Royal Boroughs between the Tay and the Forth; and the conteſt will be very warm betwixt the preſent member, ſecretary to the Noble order of the Thiſtle, and an eminent Scots counſellor of Edinburgh.

SEPTEMBER 14. They write from Jamaica, that the governor of Cuba had ordered all the British ship carpenters, of which there were great numbers, in the Spanish service, to be discharged from his Catholick Majesty's dock-yards at the Havana.

They write from Madera, that a gold mine has lately been discovered in the island of Teneriffe, which was said to be very rich, and samples of the ore had been sent to Lisbon for the King's leave to work it to advantage.

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland's departure for that kingdom, is now said to be fixed for the second of the next month.

It is said, that the parliament will meet for the dispatch of business the beginning of December.

SEPTEMBER 19. Yesterday his Majesty came from Richmond to St. James's, where there was a levee.

His Royal Highness the Duke of York is expected home the middle of next month at farthest.

It is most certain that a ministerial negociation is now carrying on, and that it is on a basis that strongly promises the utmost permanancy, being greatly different from, and infinitely more extensive and conciliating, than any proposed administration hitherto in agitation.

We are told that the Dukes of Newcastle, Bedford, Northumberland, and Richmond; the Marquis of Rockingham; the Earls of Halifax, Sandwich, Gower, and Shelburne; the Right Honourable Mr. Dowdeswell, and Mr. Conway; and Isaac Barre and Edward Burke, Esquires, are all included in the intended new ministry.

It is said that the high office of Chancellor of the Exchequer, will certainly be bestowed on the Right Honourable George Grenville before the meeting of the next session of parliament; till when, it is thought Lord Mansfield will continue in that office.

By the best accounts from abroad, we are assured that the great object now in agitation between the courts of Paris, Madrid and Lisbon, turns on the best manner of totally excluding the papal jurisdiction out of their respective dominions, and engaging other Roman Catholic powers to do the same.

It is said the Portuguese court have given a very insolent answer to our remonstrances; the pu[illegible]ich is said if we do not like our prese[illegible] we may take what remed[illegible] where they can cheapest; [illegible] do without them, for no o[illegible] our made wines.

[illegible]y his Excellency the Ea[illegible] out [illegible]use in Dover street, on his [illegible] court

We hear that William de Gray, Esq; his Majesty's attorney-general, and member for Newport in Cornwall, will be appointed Lord Chancellor of Ireland, and that he has been sent for to town on the occasion.

We hear that orders are given from the war-office for raising a number of recruits, for compleating the regiments lately arrived from North-America.

Monday last at Charles Heiron, Esq; a gentleman just arrived from Jamaica, was taken the diversion of hunting upon Epping forest, his horse took fright by the sudden starting of a deer, and ran away with him into a thicket, where unfortunately his head was struck with such violence against a large bough of a tree as fractured his skull; he was taken to Mr. Hurd's, a carpenter, near the place, where Mr. Sharpe, the surgeon, attended him, but he expired in great agonies on Thursday afternoon.

Thursday evening was intered in a handsome manner, in Old-street church-yard, the remains of the late ingenious Malachi Postlethwayte, Esq; author of the universal dictionary. The coffin was filled with unslaked lime, and intered seven feet deep in the grave, pursuant to his own particular request. Mr. Postlethwayte went late to bed on Saturday night, much fatigued with study, but seemingly in good health; and desired he might not be disturbed the next morning; this request being complied with, it was about twelve o'clock on Sunday noon before he was called to rise; but not answering when called several times, a smith was obliged to be sent for, who forced open the chamber door, when Mr. Postlethwayte was found quite cold. Mr. Postlethwayte was about sixty years of age at the time of his death, and which happened as when living he frequently wished it might, namely, a sudden death.

A letter from Paris says, "A petition from the India company against the parliament's decree in favour of M. de Bully, has been presented to the council of state. Four notaries having been employed to take copies of the marquis's minutes and papers, they were returned on Friday last to a person appointed by the marquis to receive them; but on going out of the India-house he was arrested by the King's order, and conducted to the lieutenant-general of the police, with whom he was obliged to lodge the papers in question."

Whitehall, September 8. The King has been pleased to appoint Henry Hulton, John Temple, William Burch, Charles Paxton, and John Robinson, Esqrs. to be commissioners for the receipt and management of his Majesty's customs and other duties in America.

The King has been pleased to grant unto James Porter, Esq; the office of comptroller on the cashier of the accounts of the customs, and other duties in America.

The King has been pleased to grant unto Charles Stuart, Esq; the office of cashier and pay-master of his Majesty's revenues of customs, and other duties in America.

The King has been pleased to grant unto Philip Sharpe, Esq; one of the clerks of his Majesty's council, the office of keeper of the privy-council records, in the room of William Sharpe, Esq; deceased.

Gosport, August 26. A journeyman shoemaker of this town, having fallen violently in love with a negro girl, of a very genteel person, about 16 years of age, lately brought by a lady from America, made application to her mistress for consent to marry her, but being informed by the lady that the girl cost her 30l. in that country, and that she could not part with her under that sum, the young fellow set out immediately for the west country, where he had a small estate worth 100l. which he converted into cash, and came up last week in quest of his African goddess, when, to his no small surprize, he found she went a day or two before with her mistress to London: This, however, instead of retarding, rather invigorated him in his pursuit, and he instantly followed her to town with a firm resolution if possible to find her, pay the ransom desired by her mistress, and dub her Queen of the Crispinalian tribe.

Edinburgh, August 29. His Majesty has been pleased to appoint the right honourable the Earl of March, to be vice-admiral of Scotland, in the room of the late Earl of Hyndford.

CHARLES-TOWN, NOVEMBER 10.

ON Thursday last his Excellency the Right Honourable Lord CHARLES-GREVILLE MONTAGU, our Governor, was pleased to make the following SPEECH to the Honourable the Commons House of Assembly, viz.

Honourable Gentlemen,
Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Commons House of Assembly.

I SHOULD think myself equally Negligent in the Duty I owe to my King and this Province, if I did not recommend to you, an early and serious Consideration of the unhappy Situation of the back Parts of this Country. The various Acts of Villainy committed there, in Contempt of all Laws human and divine, we have too frequent Accounts of, and too recent Proofs of, in the late Trials of the unhappy Convicts, now under Sentence of Death; far remote from the Seat of Justice, they are daily exposed to Misery and Distress. These are Objects that require Redress, and are worthy the Care of the Legislature.

Tumultuous Risings of any People, if not properly attended to, are of dangerous Tendency; they are a Disgrace to a Country, and particularly pernicious to a commercial and new settled Colony.

The Means to suppress those licentious Spirits, that have so lately appeared in the distant Parts of the Province, and assuming the Name of Regulators, have, in Defiance of Government, and to the Subversion of good Order, illegally tried, condemned, and punished many Persons, require an attentive Deliberation.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Commons House of Assembly,

I have ordered the Publick Accounts to be laid before you in due Time, and now shall only recommend to you, a careful Enquiry what Laws already are expired, or may soon, and the Revival or Continuance of such as may appear necessary and advantageous to the Publick.

5th November, 1767. C. G. MONTAGU.

The Humble ADDRESS of his Majesty's Council.

WE, his Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Council of this Province, beg Leave to return our Thanks to your Excellency for your Speech delivered Yesterday to both Houses of Assembly.

It is with the utmost Concern that we behold the distracted State of the frontier Settlements of this Province, where Force and Rapine, Riot and Disorder, supersede the temperate Provisions of Law and Justice; but tumultuary Examples never fail to multiply those Evils, which it is the Policy of well regulated States to prevent by proper Laws.

The great Objects proposed to our Consideration, deserve the most serious and deliberate Attention, and we assure your Excellency that we shall, on our Parts, most heartily concur in every Measure calculated to advance the public Good, to compose the Minds, and remove the Distresses of our Fellow Subjects.

In the Upper House of Assembly, the 7th November, 1767.
By Order of the House,
OTHNIEL BEALE.

Advices from West-Florida of the 10th Instant inform, that Governor Browne had issued Writs for calling a new Assembly, the Members were elected accordingly, and the Assembly prorogued, by Proclamation, to the 30th of November next. A small Party of Chickesaw Indians going to the Illinois, fell in with a hunting Party of French People, the Indians made a Man, a Woman, and two Children Prisoners, whom they carried to their Nation, and delivered them to Mr. Commissary Mackintosh. Three of the French Party made their Escape. General Haldiman and Charles Stuart, Esq; Deputy-Superintendant, have ordered the Prisoners to be sent down to Pensacola. The Indians offered no Violence to them, only told them, That the Ground they were upon was not French, and therefore they had nothing to do there. About the Beginning of September, the Creeks killed ten Choctaws, four near Lake Pontchartrain, and six at the Village of Youanie, the nearest to Mobille; they lost only one Man. A Number of small Parties were gone out to Revenge the Loss, and a very large Body, commanded by the Red Captain, was almost ready to go on the same Errand. The Choctaws appear Sick of the War, and it is thought, a Pacification between them and the Creeks will soon take place.

They write from New-York, that the Overtures of Peace made by the Cherokees to the Northern Indians, are in a fair Way of having the desired Effect; at least it was thought the Six Nations would agree, and that the other Tribes would follow their Example. We are told, that Sir William Johnson, Baronet, and John Stuart, Esq; the Superintendants of Indian Affairs, have been at great Pains in this Matter.

It is reported, that Oucconostota, Attakullakulla, and other Cherokee Headmen, are on their Way to Charles-Town, under the Care of Alexander Cameron, Esq; Commissary for their Nation, being appointed Deputies to proceed to New-York, to treat of, and conclude a Peace with the Six Nations and other Northern Indians.

They write from Georgia, that the Creek Indians, who had their Houses burnt by the Crackers, are satisfied, Compensation having been made them for their Losses by Governor Wright. Those who took Possession of Lemmon's Store, on his abandoning it, returned most of the Goods, and have left that Part of the Country.

We hear the Honourable Daniel Moore, Esq; is gone Passenger from Georgia, in the Sloop Dove, Harrison Hudson, Master, for Liverpool.

His Majesty's Ship Sardoine, commanded by James Hawker, Esq; will sail for Great-Britain, on Thursday or Friday next, Wind and Weather permiting.

Mr. Robert Rawlins, who was inserted in the List of Magistrates for Colleton County, has since been replaced, by Order of his Excellency the Governor in Council, as a Magistrate for Berkley County, wherein he lives.

The Georgia-Packet, Anderson, and Swan, Lambert, both from London, are arrived at Georgia.

Capt. Grimshaw from North-Carolina, informs us, that the late hard Gale of Wind was severely felt there.

DIED.] Francis Roche, Esq.—William Matthews, Esq.—Mrs. Lampriere, Wife of Clement Lampriere, Esq.

☞ All Persons concerned in the Coasting Trade of this Province, are requested to meet at Five o'Clock To-Morrow Afternoon, at the House of Mr. Robert Dillon.

 The Presentments of the Grand-Jury, at the General Sessions, &c. on the 19th ult. being very lengthy, and coming to Hand too late for this Day's Gazette, we are obliged to omit the Publication of them until our next.
